

Marsh Mail

A core vision of our Trust, Anglian Learning, is to enable dynamic, empowered learners who thrive and lead in their communities: locally, nationally and globally. Over the course of November, students have been involved in a number of activities demonstrating their responsibility and care for others and for our environment.

Twenty-two students across Years 7-11 represented the College at Cambridgeshire schools' COP 27 conference at Sawston Village College on 16th November. The day involved a series of workshops focussing on how secondary schools can tackle climate change. Students were involved in debating international environmental proposals and for presenting their local green projects.

Our Eco Forum, led by the Geography department, will continue this work, developing a number of initiatives across the school to help to reduce energy consumption and make improvements to the College environment.

It was great to see a number of students', past and present, with their exhibited artwork at the St Michaelhouse Café in Cambridge. The gallery showcased the artistic talent of LVC students and included pieces from all Trust secondary schools in a range of medium. The event was a great celebration of the arts.

Another way in which LVC students have been creative in the community is through involvement in a Cards for Bravery initiative. Recently featured on the One Show, including Mrs Garner, our Director of Inclusion, Cards for Bravery is a local voluntary organisation focussing on making positive homemade cards for hospitalised and seriously ill children. LVC students have been involved in making cards in the Henry Morris Centre at lunchtime.